There was a terrible colliery explosion yesterday at Brignally, Brixham. Great loss of life. Eleven corpses were taken out. St. James's Hall was packed last night to hear Parnell speak. Tremendous ovation. He expressed his gratitude, and belief that his fellow countrymen in Ireland, America, and Australia would rejoice at such a reception. There were no charges against him, but he would reserve his last words for the Bench witnesses and House of Commons. He added that the commission had been productive of nothing but scandalous waste of money.

PARAGUAYAN REVIVAL.

Dr Stewart, concessionaire of the Asuncion, Villa Rica and Villa Encarnacion railway arrived yesterday from Europe, having launched his railroad company in the London market in the most satisfactory manner. This railroad will cost about two millions sterling, being the biggest financial operation ever carried out abroad for Paraguayan account. The majority of our readers are aware that a portion of this railway is already working; the section from Asuncion to Paraguari has been open for the last thirty years and is at present doing a very heavy traffic business; the second section from Paraguari to Villa Rica has been in course of construction for some years past and will be finished in a few days; the third section from Villa Rica to Villa Encarnacion is still untouched. The length of the two first sections is 92 miles, that of the third section 132, making a total length of 224 miles.

The railway will traverse the richest, most fertile, and most populous parts of Paraguay, bisecting the country from West to South east. It will turn to account an immense tract of new country, considerably enhance the value of all adjoining lands, and much increase production which languished, owing to difficult and very expensive means of communication. The climate is healthy, the temperature being very uniform and not too hot for foreigners. Every inch of the land crossed by the railway, with the exception of a few marshes that can be drained, is most fertile; agriculture and cattle-farming can be carried on with good return, whilst the forests are an immense mine of wealth. The railway will mark a new era for Paraguay, and Dr. Stewart is determined to push the work ahead with the greatest activity.

The staffs of engineers and of contractors of the new line left yesterday morning in the Silex for Asuncion. De Stewart left in the evening for Rosario whence he will proceed in the same steamer up river. Men and money are ready for the work and we shall soon see the effect of the good news in a fresh spurt in Paraguayan affairs.

In London great hopes are entertained that Paraguay will revive under the stimulus of this fresh capital and new railway. All Paraguayan interests were rising, and the two millions asked for the railway were subscribed for three times over. Large applications for lots of 100,000 to 280,000£ were received from France and Belgium. The day the Maskelyne left England, 16th ult., the shares of the Paraguay Land Company were quoted at £41½—an advance of £1. On the 15th ult. a new company, under the style of the Paraguay Development Company, was started with great success and large capital. In fact everything appears to favor Paraguay to-day, and it looks as if that fair land of oranges is on the eve of a fresh departure which will no doubt be very gratifying to the numerous capitalists who invested of late years in Paraguayan lands.

THE ESTEREL MOUNTAINS.

Cannes, Feb. 6th.

The most picturesque feature about Cannes is this range of mountains, which is about 10 miles westward and serves to shelter Cannes from the Mistral, a cold, piercing wind that is much dreaded on the Riviera. The highest point is Mount Vinegar, 2,000 feet, the range running right down to the Mediterranean, where it terminates in a rocky promontory. On the western slope is the valley of Vallescure, which is said to enjoy the finest air in Europe, being sheltered by hills covered with pines. I took the train for St. Raphael, the day being fine and the scenery along the route magnificent, the railway running through tunnels, over gorges and around precipices washed by the sea many feet below.

St. Raphael is at the foot of the Esterel range and has a small harbor, with a pretty Alameda and several good hotels, but attracts only few visitors, partly by reason of the Mistral, partly because it has not the bustle and gaiety of Cannes or Nice. We took a carriage here for Vallescure. The road was not as good as usually in France, and the villas were scattered at some distance through the pine woods. Some of them were like what you might see at Flores or Belgrano. The city of Frejus and the snow-clad Alpes Maritimes were visible, the air being intensely cold and very invigorating.

At the top of the valley we reached the Continental Hotel, kept by Mdme. Rossi, the house being full of English visitors. I went for a stroll in the woods with Rev. Mr. Bowen, father of Chief Justice Bowen, a gentleman of 87 summers who comes here every summer with his wife, a charming lady of 80. The place has such a reputation for recuperative qualities that Oxford men, broken down by hard study or too much boating, often come to spend a fortnight and go back to England quite renovated. Lord Salisbury was here last summer at Villa Marguerite and liked the place so much that he tried to buy an acre or two of the pine forest, intending to build, but the owners of the land demanded 10 francs the square metre, equal to £1,600 an acre, whereupon he went off to Boileau, on the Riviera, and is now building there.

Many of the great physicians of Paris have built country houses, to which they come in the winter months: the finest is that of Dr. Charges, one of the best known doctors of the capital. Close by is a pretty chalet belonging to Mr. Hall, who was Daily News correspondent in the Franco-German war. Some of these chalets may be bought cheap, from £500 upward, with garden. The owners leave them in May, when the season is over, and merely give the key to a garde-de-chasse in the neighborhood, who goes at intervals to see that the furniture is all right. It is a very peaceful country where burglars are unknown, and Mr. Bowen assured me that he walks for miles along the roads through the forest without the least concern. You may walk for miles through the forest without the least fatigue, the mountain air and the odor of the pines producing a most invigorating effect. If there be any fagged or jaded readers of the Standard, let them take the steamer to Marseilles and spend a month at Mdme Rossi's hotel in the Esterel mountains.

A BISHOP ARRAIGNED AT LAMBETH PALACE.

DR. KING ON HIS TRIAL.

London, Feb. 14th.

This trial commenced on Tuesday, at Lambeth Palace, a notable trial—that of a Bishop of saintly character and wide influence, who is summoned to appear before the Archbishop of Canterbury in the "Curia Audientiæ Cantuarensis," a distinct and separate tribunal from that of the familiar Court of Arches. The court has not sat since 1695, when Dr. Watson, Bishop of St. David's, in the reign of William III., was cited before the then Archbishop of Canterbury (Dr. Tenison) to answer charges of simony in the exaction of excessive fees. The Primate summoned as his assessors the Vicar-General of the province and six Bishops, one of whom was Bishop Burnet, who has left a short account of the trial. The result was that the Bishop was deprived of his see, and in vain invoked the Court of King's Bench to set aside the verdict. In Ireland, as recently as 1822, a Bishop of Clogher, who did not appear, was deprived by the Archbishop of Armagh in a similar court.

The Bishop of Lincoln put in an appearance before the Primate, and the question to be settled was whether or not an appeal lies to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, in which case it is understood that the Bishop of Lincoln will not in any way recognize the secular tribunal. All the assessors except the Bishop of Rochester who now takes the place of the Bishop of Norwich, who is in Australia, are High Churchmen—namely, the Bishops of London, Winchester, Oxford, and Salisbury. The Bishop of Lichfield, in a pastoral letter just issued, deals at length with the trial, the result of which he considers "will be fraught with peril to the position which God has assigned to the Church in this country."

There are ten counts in the indictment, but they virtually resolve themselves into seven. These are, putting them as briefly as possible: (1) the use of Altar Lights, (2) of the Mixed Chalice, (3) of the Eastward Position during the acts of Consecration (4) and during the previous part of the Communion Service; (5) causing the "Agnus Dei" to be sung immediately after the prayer of consecration; (6) making the Sign of the Cross during the Absolution and Benediction in the Communion Service; (7) ceremonially cleansing the paten and chalice after the Communion Service, and drinking before the congregation the wine and water.

The Archbishop having opened the court with prayer, in which he asked for "a right judgment," asked if any one wished to say anything before the court sat. The Bishop of Lincoln, who was accompanied by his chaplains, at once responded by rising at the end of the counsel's table to read his protest. A colloquy to arrange this followed, in which the Archbishop and the opposing counsel took part. It ended in the arrangement that the Vicar-General should give r hearing from time to time at counsel's convenience, to merely formal points, and that the whole court would assemble on Tuesday, the 12th of March, "when," concluded the Archbishop and shall be prepared to hear the arguments." And with that the court rose.

THE MAILS.

London, Feb. 15.

The letters attributed to Mr. Parnell were reached by the Special Commission yesterday, when evidence of considerable interest was given by Mr. Soames, solicitor to the Times. Mr. Soames was in the witness-box nearly all day. He was examined by the Attorney-General chiefly with reference to the letters, and cross-examined by Sir Charles Russell. In answer to Sir Charles he said that the articles were written by Mr. Flanagan, son of an Irish judge, and that the letters attributed to Mr Parnell were obtained from Mr Pigott. Three other persons, including Detective Moser, had been employed to make inquiries, and had been paid separately. To Mr. Houston sums amounting to between two and three thousand pounds were paid by the Times. The cross-examination had not concluded when the Court adjourned.

Speaking at Portsmouth yesterday, Mr. J. Morley alluded to Mr. Chamberlain's challenge as to the publication of the proceedings at the Round Table Conference, and said that the Liberal party would lose nothing by the publication of every word that passed at the conference, for the more the proceedings were known the more fully would it be seen that the Liberal party had not hauled down their flag. He thought it would be impossible to produce any land schemes that were submitted to the conference unless they were enabled to publish at the same time the fullest details of the discussion as to local government schemes.

Sir George Trevelyan was the principal speaker at a Liberal meeting at Cupar-Fife last night. In the course of his speech he criticised the action of the Dissentient Liberals, whose recent demonstration at Glasgow was, he said, the greatest sham of the age.

Mr. Chamberlain, addressing a general meeting at Dundee last night, criticised Sir George Trevelyan's recent speech at Glasgow, and said that he had read it with a great deal of amusement, and not without a spice of contempt. He proceeded to justify Mr. Balfour's treatment of Mr. O'Brien.

A large meeting, called by the London Liberal Radical Union, was held in the St. James's Hall last evening to consider the question of the housing of the working classes. Mr Causton, M.P., presided, and the speakers included Mr R. Reid, Q.C., M.P., Mr. J. Rowlands, M.P., Earl Compton, Sir Charles Russell, Q.C., M.P., Professor Stuart, M.P., the Rev. H. P. Hughes, Mr. George Howell, M.P., and Lord Monkswell. Resolutions were carried affirming the need for better houses for the working classes of London, approving of the conditions adopted by the Council of the London Liberal and Radical Union for dealing with the question, and declaring that bills ought not to be allowed to pass for the demolition of dwellings of the working classes until provision had been made for re-housing an equivalent number of the same class in convenient situations.

A Belgrade Correspondent telegraphs further particulars of the alleged Radical conspiracy in Servia. The Roumanian Government informed King Milan that M. Taushanovics, whose appointment as Minister of the Interior the Radicals had made a necessary condition of compromise, had been in active correspondence with notorious Servian exiles in Roumania. A large consignment of arms destined for Servia was seized by the Roumanian Government on the frontier.

The Cunard steamer Samaria, which left Liverpool on the 7th, has been towed back to Queenstown, having broken her shaft on the 10th inst.

An inquest was held by Dr. Macdonald yesterday on the body of the woman who was on Tuesday found dead in a ditch at Hackney Marshes. A porter named Marshall identified the deceased as his wife. Medical evidence showed that there were no marks of violence on the body, and that death was due to exposure and cold A verdict in accordance with this testimony was returned.

The Court of Appeal, reversing a decision of Mr. Justice Day, yesterday upheld the claim of Mr. J. E. Hailiday to a family pew in the parish church of Warminster, Wilts. Mr. Halliday's family had had possession of the pew for two hundred years, and had repaired it. The vicar and churchwardens, however, recently came to the conclusion that the pew was vested in them on behalf of the parishioners, and had removed it. It was to restrain them from appropriating the space it occupied that the action was mainly brought.

Ebenezer Samuel Jenkins was found guilty at the Surrey Assizes yesterday of the murder of Emily Joy, his sweetheart, in a studio at Godalming, on the 7th of January last. Mr. Justice Hawkins passed sentence of death.

The hearing of the charge against Patrick Molloy of having committed perjury before the Parnell Commission was resumed at Bow-street yesterday. Mr. John Walker, who had had interviews with the accused, and said that he had taken down a statement, was recalled for cross-examination. This having been concluded and other evidence taken, the case was sent for trial.

The Stock Markets yesterday were very steady as a whole, the settlement being completed satisfactorily. Home Railway stocks showed special firmness. New Consols for the account closed at 99⅛. At the Bank the sum of £7,900 was withdrawn on balance.

DEAF:—A person cured of 25 years' deafness by a simple remedy will send its description to any person applying to Nicholson, 1260 Santiago del Estero. ADV.

PAYSANDU.

It is well worth noting that a large Italian steamer is now loading wool in Paysandu. We believe that this is the first time an ocean-going vessel of 2000 tons has ever been in Paysandu. There is no doubt that our imports of wool, hides, bonenash, and also cereals, is such as to commend to the careful study of British ship owners the advisability of establishing regular communication, before some more enterprising country steps in and absorbs the Ocean-carrying trade betwen Paysandu and Europe. When the Midland Railway is completed from Salto to Paysandú, many thousand tons of Brazilian and Uruguayan productions must find their way to this port for shipment direct to Europe, as no Ocean-going vessels can go further up the Uruguay than Paysandú. The Midland Railway have built a strong substantial jetty that will admit deep-draught vessels alongside, and another pier exists in the Barraca of Messrs. Hufnagel Plottier & Co. It is said that extensive wharves are to be built and new custom houses. Dn Julio Murò is said to have got the concession for the work.

The new tablada is now in full work; cattle are daily arriving, and the prices paid are equal to and in some instances have surpassed those of Liebig's Extract of Meat Company. Some lots of novillos fetched $11.50 and cows $8.75. There is no doubt that this new tablada will have an important influence on the future of the cattle industry. What the saladerista now wants is a well fattened animal with plenty of meat, for which he is prepared to pay. The old timed scrub will shortly not have a place in our market. We are glad to see the great interest taken in the crossing with the various breeds of English cattle, which with increased care, will alone bring back prosperity to the declining cattle industries.

It has been decided to cross all the cattle owned by the Sociedad Pastoral with Devon stock, and the first consignment of bulls will arrive in the Pascal, sailing from England on the 5th inst. Among the bulls expected are "Duke of Pound 13th Sire Lord Curry pool, Lord Leigland 2nd, Lord Colford, Capt. Smith and Unionist. These bulls contain some of the best strains of Devon blood in England, in the most concentrated form, combined with the highest type of individual excellence. Baron Maua in selecting the Devon in preference to other breeds has been guided by the experience of the Devon in this and other countries. One of the largest Ranchmen in Texas thus writes of them." "They are the hardiest cattle I ever saw, roughing it better than our common stock. A good many of our ranch men are trying them, and as yet I have heard nothing but praises. One of them said not long ago, that he had spent $20,000 for Hereford cattle, and his only regret was that he had not put it in Devons."

It is now stated that the splendid camp belonging to Dn. Miguel Nerta has changed hands, price said to have been paid $65,000 the suerte. As yet it is not known who the buyers are, but it is surmised to be the new "Banco Franco Uruguayo." As this property is situated near the town on the banks of the Uruguay, and is rich fertile land, no better spot could be found for colonial purposes.—R. P. Time

CAPTAIN H. R. N. STEWART'S PATENT PACK-SADDLE.

The "Encyclopedia Britannica" is now at last complete, and it is to be hoped will soon be superseded by a more practically useful work for the bread-winners of England. For such readers it is of little value. The way wealth is made from the earth's crust for a people's existence finds little space in these ponderous quarters. We were led to these thoughts upon reading it and searching for "Pack-saddles." The word is not even mentioned in the short column on "Saddlery." The little said is useless for a student or workman who seeks practical information. The invention of Captain H. R. N. Stewart, of Windsor, of an adjustable pack-saddle, to suit either a camel or a donkey, seemed so marked an advance over the ordinary pack-saddle—which seems like a section of a form with legs of iron or wood—that we hoped to gather information at so prominent a source of supply as this great work before us.

The British Army pack-saddles are in nine varying sorts and sizes. These are divided into five for the artillery, and four for the general service. These differ so much that they are not interchangably serviceable.

A large size pack-saddle weighs 54 lbs., a small one 45 lbs. What are they estimated to carry? Howitzer's about 2 cwt., or cannon in sections the same weight, a pair of wheels somewhat lighter. Ammunition, food, tents, etc., these require the pack-saddle should be as good a fit as a riding-saddle, which is supposed to carry a man and his equipments, from 160 lbs. to 180 lbs. weight.

The little more carried by a pack-saddle surely need not require much more than double the weight of a riding-saddle, and should, on emergencies, be serviceable as such by the addition of stirrup-leathers.

On examining Captain Stewart's pack-saddle we found it to weigh complete, with 60 yards of rope, 211 lbs., and suited to carry 200 lbs. or more. Now for cost. It is half the price of the regulation pack-saddle. The way this economy, cost, and weight is obtained is so simple that we must conclude that practical men had little to do with designing the service pack-saddle.

The improved pack-saddle is made of two expanding trees of manganese steel, and tie-bars of the same metal to hold them, as a pommel and cantel of a saddle are held.

The trees are jointed as a pair of calipers, the curved parts are to the barrel-shape of the animal, and the adjustment to width is by two screws back and front, through "lugs" near the points. These act on "lugs" in each jointed piece, one opposite the others, and the joint-screws, turned by the fingers, secure them to any width they may be expanded to for camel or for donkey, or for storage they are closed together as a book.

The pads or panels are of waterproof canvas, stuffed in with ducry ribs with granulated cork, making this part indestructible by moth or insects, and buoyant in water. Each separate panel would serve as a life buoy for a man if so needed. The ironwork is galvanised, and has the loaded hooks of solid metal.

The [illegible] straps to the iron trees terminate outside of the panels in a ring for [illegible] the platted girth to the animal. The other straps are the breast strap, [illegible] crupper and breech-band —a sweat [illegible] covers the whole to keep the loads [illegible] the animal's body.

All is so simple and efficient that anyone could fix on the pack-saddle, adjust the width, and lash on the loads as if accustomed to the work.

In war it is usual to reckon on losing half the horses that carry by the common pack-saddle, mainly by the injury done by the badly-fitting pack-saddles.

With these adjustable pack-saddles such loss is sure to be materially lessened; while for carrying for commercial purposes the obvious economy and humanity will be sure to command notice and adoption in the many marts of the world where these aids to transit of goods are in common use.

Advance.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

AN APPRECIATIVE ACCOUNT OF CANADA FROM THE UNITED STATES.

While some Canadians are busily decrying our country our neighbours are learning to estimate it at its proper value. As an instance of this we give the following extract from a paper read by Professor Ralph W. Thomas at a meeting of the Institute of Albany, New York. Like others of his countrymen, the professor has evidently learned enough about Canada to think that its rich resources are worth appropriating. He said:

By way of introducing the subject, let this question be answered: "What is Canada?" Geographical Canada has an area of 3,360,000 square miles. It is difficult properly to understand the extent of so vast an area. The basin of the Hudson's bay alone is 2,000,000 square miles in extent. Canada is 40 times as large as England, Scotland and Wales. It is equal to three British Indias; it is fifteen times as large as the German empire. The excess of its area over that of the United States is greater than the whole area included in the thirteen colonies joining in the Declaration of Independence. A country of magnificent areas, of unmeasured arable plain and prairie, of mountains rich in mineral wealth, of lacustrine systems that dwarf our own, of majestic rivers wholly within her own borders measured upon the Missouri-Mississippi scale—this is Canada.

Industrial Canada is great in agriculture and minerals. Ontario raises the finest barley in the world and some of the finest draught horses. The vast North-West includes 466,000 square miles of the wheat field of the world. From its situation it has two hours more of daylight than other wheat-bearing regions on this continent. This means two hours more of forcing power every day. Droughts are never feared. Manitoba claims 75,000,000 acres of wheat fields. The Canadian wheat crop for the first ten months of 1888 was valued at $5,000,000. The north west regions are capable of supporting a population of many millions, and immigrants are already pouring in. Alberta is the ranch of Canada. Its climate is so mild, on account of the warm currents in the Pacific, that cattle and horses roam over the pastures the year round, and are found in spring to be in good condition for market. The Canadians exported $10,000,000 worth of cattle during the first ten months of 1887. All these advantages are to be reinforced by transportation. The Canada Pacific railroad is a fact, and the Hudson's Bay route is promised, by which Winnipeg is brought 783 miles nearer Liverpool than by way of Montreal, and 1,052 miles nearer than by Chicago. By this route Liverpool would be brought 2,136 miles nearer to China and Japan than via New York and San Francisco. If this route succeeds Canada will hold the key to the markets of the world. Coal exists throughout Canada in abundance. The entire coal area is said to cover 97,000 square miles.

The copper deposits are pronounced by Mr. Erastus Wiman to be almost beyond human belief. In one deposit there are ridges miles long above ground, containing more copper than is to be seen on any iron deposit in the world. The Calumet and Hecla vein is twelve feet thick; the Canadian vein is 1,000 feet thick. The Geological Survey has located 557 deposits in the Eastern Townships alone. Gold and silver exist in great plenty. The principal fields are in Nova Scotia and British Columbia. In the latter province $50,000,000 have been taken from the ground by unimproved methods, and this seems to point to vast deposits in the mountains.

In Beaver mine, at Port Arthur, discovered in March last, there is in sight, by actual measurement $750,000 worth of silver. Like bonanzas have been reported in British Columbia. Such exposures are unprecedented. Iron is found in unlimited quantities and of the best grade. Near Ottawa there is a hill of iron, estimated to contain 100,000,000 tons. The railroad up the valley of the Trent runs through a continuous belt for 150 miles. Mr. Wiman is authority for the statement that at new Glasgow, in Nova Scotia, within a radius of six miles there is found hundreds of tons of iron ore of the best quality, side by side with limestone chemically pure, coke in seams 30 feet thick, all directly on the line of the Intercolonial railway and within six miles of the Atlantic ocean. This ore could be put on the wharf in Boston for $1.50 per ton, which, to-day, cost $5 to $6 per ton. The Ontario Government has recently sold 150,000 acres of land for $2 an acre, covering an iron belt 75 miles across.

Commercial Canada has not yet acquired that prominence which might be expected when the resources of the country are considered. Yet, in her merchant marine, Canada ranks fourth among the nations of the earth. Commerce is now being fostered by the Government, and in 1881 the American trade with Canada amounted to $89,000,000. These facts partly answer the question "What is Canada?" and I hold that they vindicate the Canadian's claim for the greatness of his country's destiny. * * * *

The Pacific coast is already buying 300,000,000 tons of Canadian coal every year in spite of the duty. Our manufacturers are compelled to go to Malta and Spain for iron, when it exists within a few hours' ride of our own borders. The manufacturers of this country are deprived of nickel, which could be used in many ways were it not for the high price of the metal. It is better than steel for the making of ordnance. But there are only two deposits of consequence in the world. One is within a few miles of Detroit, the other in New Caledonia, half way round the globe.

We hear much of the high price of lumber and much of the destruction of our forests. Anyone can see that a high tariff on lumber means direct destruction to our own forests. Canadian lumber by the million feet is annually going up in the smoke of forest fires or rots into the earth. Ten million acres of forest exists in British Columbia alone.

ENGINEER CORNIANI'S REPORT IN THE MONTE CASEROS, CORRIENTES AND POSADAS RAILWAYS. A STEAM-TRAMWAY FOR CONCEPCION DEL URUGUAY.

Mr. Corniani C. E., who has charge of the inspection of the works of Messrs. Clarke's railways in Corrientes, has forwarded his report for the month of January. In the course of that month 254,338 cubic metres were thrown up by the navvies, and this makes a total of 1,477,975 cubic metres. Thirty four bridges were finished, and the masonry work was very actively carried on. Rails were laid as far as kil 9 from Monte Caseros, and kil 6 from Corrientes. Independently of this 5 kilometres of rails have been provisionally laid in Santo Tomè. In the course of January the contractors received one large locomotive, 610 tons of rails, and 300 tons of other material. It is interesting to note with what activity these lines are being built. They were hardly begun the other day, and now the contractors have 3,600 men at work. Of these over ⅔ are employed in the earthworks, which are advancing very rapidly. Mr. Corniani makes no complaint whatever. He says order rules supreme and everything works "on wheels."

The local agent of the Central Argentine Railway has applied to Government for authority to build a siding of three kilometres in length between the stations of San Fernando and San Isidro. This step appears to be most advisable on the part of the company and there is little doubt will be approved by the Government.

Messrs Pelaez and Co., who hold the concession for a line from Reconquista to Formosa, have applied to Government requesting that the kilometric cost be fixed at 28,640 dollars.

The kilometrage run by the North West Argentine last month was: Locomotives 9,025; carriages 18,364; wagons 33,265.

It now appears a tolerable certainty that Concepcion del Uruguay is to have the first steam-tramway. Such an acquisition might have been reserved for dear dirty B. Ayres. But there is a lack of enterprise here in this regard. The rolling-stock, or the greater part of it, has already arrived in the s.s. Colina and Manara. The engine weighs 7 tons and by means of two powerful brakes can be stopped instantaneously. This engine is calculated to drag 80 tons and is about half the size of an ordinary tram-car. It has been called "8 de Junio, 1810." In this way passengers will be reminded that the historic and revered city of Concepcion was the first to respond to the call of the B. Ayres Patriots on the memorable 25th of May, 1810. The owner of this concern, which is a pleasing feature of novelty and enterprise combined, are Drs. B. Basualdo and M. Cigorraga.

Our La Plata exchanges yesterday contained the pleasing announcement that the Government has begun an inquiry into the circumstances which have prevented the Board of Railways from extending the line to the port. The principal obstacle appears to be the question of expropriation. However, we are sure the gordian knot will be speedily cut by the active minister of Public Works.

TESTIMONIAL.

At sea, March 8th, 1889.

To Captain Edward Hairby, F. R. G. S. London, F. R. S. A. Edinburgh, etc. etc. etc., Commander Belgian R. M. S. "Maskelyne".

Dear Sir,

We are now approaching Montevideo, and cannot take leave of you without tendering you our most hearty thanks for the uniform urbanity and tact you have shewn, and for the pains you have taken to make our time at sea as agreeable and as comfortable as possible.

We do not presume to speak of your abilities, as a Commander or Navigator, but we can at least testify to your cautious and careful handling of the ship, through 900 miles of fog, which always tries the sailor's skill and patience.

We trust you may long continue an honored member of the profession to which you belong, and that your successful career may prove an incentive to the Junior Officers of the service to emulate such an illustrious example.

Assuring you of our sincere good wishes for your health, happiness and

The 60 o/o premium so longed for by bullish speculators was a "fait accompli" to-day. Shortly after operations were started the rate was hoisted, but, in accordance with general anticipation, it could not be maintained, and it is now certain that it will take more than ordinary trouble to elevate the quotation beyond this Rubiconic rate. This is the point where bulls decrease and bears multiply. It is more than probable, almost certain, that at the settlement the "corner" will take the rate over 160, but this would be quite exceptional and due entirely to the momentary squeeze, so that a continuance of the price would be outside the range of calculation. Nevertheless, matters are still so decidedly bullish that it is thought the rate will oscillate about 159 for some time. As for stocks, the protracted depression and approach of the liquidation without even glimmer of improvement is frightening the dealers, who are trying to get rid of their shares as advantageously as possible. Everything looks so dull and cheerless in the stock market that a semi-panicky feeling is apprehended unless matters mend.

Business in gold at the first hour embraced over 2½ millions, of which 320,796 were taken up for cash, opening at 159.70, rising to 160, and then dropping steadily off to 159.20, finally closed 20 cents higher. For Saturday the speculation was very brisk, 695,000 being disposed of at falling rates, opening at 159.30, falling to 159.10, and closing 10 cents higher. For other dates the tendency was the same, but, although strong sellers have entered the market, the tendency is still very stiff. In Cedulas there was a fair demand, and prices were sustained and even improved. Nat. Bank Shares also rallied somewhat from 257 to 258.50, at which they closed. The other stocks were quiet.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the first ring:—

A new concern was started to-day which will no doubt command a ready success in this market, which is for the moment surfeited with banks and insurance companies. The new enterprise is a paving company, and it has such a wide and open field of labour without competition that it must prove a success. The capital is fixed at 10 million dollars, and the following gentlemen, of leading standing and repute in the market, constitute the board: Plácido Marin, Hector S. Soto, Felipe Llavallol, Bartolomé Novaro, Juan A. de Uribe, Andres Spinetto, Luciano Chaves.
Promoters:—Alberto I. Gache, and Vicente Ferrer.

The decree appeare to-day naming Mr. Tosso to the important post of Finance Minister of the Province, for which he is in every way fitted. His handling of the budget in the Chambers marked him as a rising and promising financier.

The s.s. WashingtonCity which cleared yesterday for Antwerp and Liverpool took a most valuable cargo of 5000 salted cow hides, 2056 bales wool and 387 bags alpiste. Nearly the entire cargo which is from this market goes to Anwerp.

S.s. Chancer which cleared last night took for Brazil 9000 bags maize and a consignment of £70,000 in specie.

The Directory of the Banco Hipotecario de la Capital desire us to state that the last date for paying the first "cuota" of 20 o/o on the shares is 15 March. Subscribers not paying by that date will lose the right to claim their shares. We hear from several Bolsa brokers that a good premium is being offered in many quarters for transfer of rights to the shares.

A splendid lot of wool from Guamini, belonging to Mr. Henry Thompson was sold yesterday in the South market by Mr. Rafael Cuto at 5·90 the 10 kilos.

Shareholders of the Central Produce Market, Barracas, should note that the meeting will now soon come off, and to attend it they must lodge their shares beforehand.

Some data of the crops in Arrecifes show the tremendous ravages caused by the continuous rains, the maize crop being the only one that escaped intact. In wheat about 506 hectares were sown, which under ordinary circumstances as regards weather would have given 75,000 fanegas, but the figure has actually dwindled down to 12,000 and even this is very inferior quality. In flax some 1000 hectares were sown which have only produced 10,000 fanegas, due to the same causes, whilst of the 1500 hectares under alfalfa only about 40 o/o of the crop has been secured. The maize returns, however, will be splendid being calculated at 280,000 fanegas. Harvest hands are very scarce. The camps in general in the partido are in the most splendid condition, and estancieros are looking forward to a mild winter.

Salta advices announce that the municipality have voted 1½ million nationals to pave the streets and provide the town with sewerage and aguas corrientes.

The harvest returns in Col. Pringles partido are as follows: Wheat 16,000 fanegas, maize 15,000 fanegas, alfalfa 2000 tons. Strange to say the loss in the maize crop is 30 o/o and in the wheat only 8 o/o. Harvest hands are in great demand.

Mr. Chubb the celebrated safe manufacturer says:

It may be interesting to you to know that we are sending out to Buenos Ayres to a company there, a big deposit vault, the first ever purchased for South America. It weights, I think, close on fifty tons. "Business, I assure you," said Mr. Chubb in conclusion, "is very good in all branches, and we have 250 workmen engaged at our works in Old Kent-road."

Very important telegrams were received to-day from London announcing a fall of two points in all Argentine stocks and a sort of break in 6 per cent Uruguays, which are now down to 81, being under their issue figure.

Telegrams from Paris announce the probable liquidation of the Comptoir d'Escompte bank.

Captain Hairby, Commander of the s.s. Maskelyne, was welcomed on 'Change by his numerous friends, also Dr. Steward of Paraguay, who leaves to-night for Asuncion.

Owing to the sharp fall of Cedulas in the London market, this stock can no longer help the exchange market as a remittance. It is even rumoured on 'Change that a large amount of Provincial Cedulas is on the way out for delivery in this market.

Exchange rules the same; francs, commercial bills, at 4.96 and 95, and something done on Antwerp at 4.97; but banks draw on Paris at 4.92. Sterling rules, commercial bills 46½ and banks 46¾.

Some large purchases of National Bank Shares were made this morning for account of a leading foreign house. The price of this stock is considered low, as 5 per cent dividend falls due on on 1st April.

Affairs in London according to to-day's telegrams are quieter and all danger from the Paris collapse considered over. The National Government has received large offers of money from Messrs. Baring Brothers.

The reformed statutes of the Banco de Italia were sent to-day to the Government for approval, which is a preliminary step to coming in under the new Free Banking Law.

The statutes and prospectus of the Banco de Bahia Blanca were handed round to-day. There is no doubt that the bank is badly wanted, as the South of the province is ill provided so far as banking facilities are concerned, and the board is constituted of leading names in this market which will no doubt be a guarantee to intending share applicants. The capital is 5,000,000 in series of shares of 100 mpn each. The first board is as follows:—

President—D. Luis A d'Abreu
Vice President—Pedro Jofre
2nd Vice President—Mariano Mayo
Treasurer—Enrique Goodhall
Members—Jose I Jimenez, R Lopez Lecube, Jose Ferro, M Zamboniri; Jose R. Zabala, Octavio Zapiola, P Forgues, G Paris.
Manger—Felix B. Villegas
Secretary—Francisco M Araujo

Estancieros and farmers have made such loud complaints of the enormous increase in the taxation of lands that the Sociedad Rural has taken the matter in hand and intends with might and main to have it remedied. The valuators have evidently been working with more regard to instructions than conscience. Most scandalous instances are spoken of, one being the valuation of a property in Ensenada at nearly seven million dollars although part of it is absolutely worthless. The matter is very serious and estancieros are justly indignant and clamorous.

Matters at the second hour were a trifle animated, owing to a decline in the premium and an incipient speculation in Constructors. The premium fell off all down the line, but in such a tenacious manner that a lower quotation is not looked for this month. The closing rates were 159.10 for to-morrow, 159 for Saturday and end of April, and 158.80 for end of month. Cedulas, as in the morning, were in brisk demand at sustained rates. National Bank Shares were flat at 258, but Constructors kept up to 124 for to-morrow and 125 end of month. Everything else was neglected.

The statutes of the new concern Arenal Grande, have been approved by government.

It was said to-day that Mr. Casares will be named president of the Provincial Bank in La Plata, vice Mr. Costa, resigned. To succeed Mr. Casares Mr. Marenco is spoken of, but as the post is only a nomination one and not permanent it is thought that the Government will now issue a decree changing the post into a permanency.
Messrs. Andreu & Labro, cereal brokers report two important transactions, one being the purchase by a firm in this market of 50,000 bags of maize of new crop at $2.45 the 100 kilos to be delivered up-river in June and July. The other is a parcel of wheat for consumption from south of the Province for which the splendid price of $7.50 has been paid, perhaps the highest yet realized.

Our old friend Mr E. C Courtaux, for so many years devoted to education, has sold his fine college in the Calle Juncal under very favorable terms and has started as general commission agent and broker. Mr Courtaux had such a very wide circle of friends on and off 'Change that in wishing him the support of the market we have no doubt that he will meet with the greatest success.

Mr McCullock, of Liverpool, was welcomed on 'Change after an absence of twenty five years. He does not recognize Buenos Ayres, but of all the staggering changes that meet his eye and baffle all his recollections, the metamorphosis of the Boca is the most striking and unexpected.

The excavations in Dique I we learn are being carried on briskly. Last month 80,000 cubic metres of "tosca" were taken out. The masonry work is being pushed ahead at an equally rapid pace. The deposits in Dique I will be begun shortly. The sluice-gates have been commenced and will be finished shortly. The machinery department has been completed. Over 4000 metres of macadam have been laid. Very little was done during the month on the outer river-wall. Despite all the activity shewn by the contractors, Engineer Stavelius opines that more steam must be put on if they wish to finish the 2nd section within the stipulated time.

A decree was issued to-day by the President arranging the matter in dispute between Messrs. Madero, of the Port Works, and the Catalinas Company. It seems that a large portion of the materials for the Port Works have to be deposited on land in possession of the Company, and by arraugement ratified by decree this understanding will continue to last and the necessary grounds be granted for the purpose so long as necessary.

Mr. Achilles Chiesa, on behalf of a company in course of formation, and whose principal object will be the purchase of the well-known Comas Moles in Rosario, wishes to know if the Finance Minister will allow the Company the same privileges granted to Mr. Santo Marina, should the Company realize the undertaking. He lays much stress on the great boon that the moles and deposies will be to commercial interests generally if put on a proper footing.

The tenders for construction of a sea wall from the Riachuelo Port to Maldonado river were opened yesterday in the Home Minister's office. Only two were presented, one being from Messrs. Portalis freres Carbonnier and Co., and the other from the Obras Publicas Company.
